

The New Gay Man lifestyle is not the sweet, gentle thing you have been told it is. Instead it is based on organised, clandestine pederasty and the ruthless exploitation of boys. Within it, young boys, the modern erominos, are seduced by older pederasts. When they become older themselves, and so unattractive, they become the erastes to a new generation of erominos in turn. In contrast to the Greek system, however, these individuals are not training boys to be men, but only to be pederasts like themselves.

Young feminine homosexual boys want real heterosexual men, but there is ZERO chance of them getting one, as 'gay boys'. Absolutely none. So they are thrown to the pederasts of the New Gay Man lifestyle, which has managed to persuade legislators of its innocence. There is an escape route, though.

Straight men and HSTS

Feminine homosexual males sit on a scale of development, or an aetiology, with Male-to-Feminine (MtF) Homosexual Transsexuals (HSTS), or transwomen.

Contrary to what you might think, there are many straight men who would willingly have a relationship with such transwoman, as long as she satisfied his expectations of femininity. This is not homophobia; it's just a reflection of the fact that heterosexual men avoid physical relationships with other men. They are attracted to femininity and repulsed by masculinity. Even the attenuated masculinity of a feminine homosexual boy is enough to trigger their revulsion response.

That such men exist, and in increasing numbers, is clear from observing situations where HSTS transwomen congregate and by discussing this with them. And this has a cumulative effect: the more men are prepared to be the partners of MtF transsexuals, the more young HSTS are encouraged to transition.

The old threat of a miserable, lonely life as a transwoman is paper-thin, today. The ever-popular, glib solace that this fate can so easily be avoided simply by being a good boy, doing as the doctor tells you and donating your body and life to the pederasts of the New Gay Man lifestyle, simply will not wash, now,. There are too many publicly visible HSTS transwomen in successful relationships with straight men. At the same time, the reality of the New Gay Man meat-market has become increasingly hard to conceal and its true, exploitative nature is more and more revealed.

The young people we are talking about are not fools: they know that the visible ones are but the tip of the iceberg. Across social media and in private chat-rooms, they discover others who have walked the same path, successfully, and are now living happily as women.

Today that means, for such a boy, attracted to straight men, the largest potential dating pool can be accessed by transitioning into a convincing woman and not by remaining a gay boy. And now, he knows it.

The New Gay Man Pederasts and the great con trick

This is where the New Gay Man comes in. While in many parts of the world, it is simply an expectation that transgender homosexuals, that is, feminine homosexual boys and masculine girls, will transition and live as the opposite sex, the overwhelming rejection of male femininity in the Anglophone West has led to the development of a male homosexual project that I call the New Gay Man. This is the front organisation for a group of pederasts who ruthlessly prey on boys. And worse, they have persuaded many that this is acceptable behaviour, and an acceptable fate for our sons.

Nazi hyper-masculine pederasts

[caption id="attachment_10730" align="alignleft"

width="207"] The West has been sold on propaganda that characterises the gay lifestyle as sweet, gentle and harmless. But it has another face[/caption]

The New Gay Man lifestyle, despite its cachet of fashionable Political Correctness, is pervaded by pederasts. Many of these were once boys, seduced into the lifestyle and duly penetrated by a succession of men whose sexual appetite can never be satisfied, because they are actually women pretending to be men. But they were conditioned, through the academy for pederasts that the New Gay Man lifestyle really is, to themselves become the trainers for the new generation of pederasts. These are not, however, alone.

One other class of males in the New Gay Man lifestyle is made up of hyper-masculine narcissists who are also pederasts. These are sexually attracted to an image of unalloyed masculinity; effectively, to themselves, as pure, unsullied boys -- unsullied, that is, by infatuation or physical contact with women. They were described by the German sexologist Benedict Friedlaender, who was himself of this type. They are deeply hostile both to women and feminine homosexual males, as was illustrated by Friedlaender's public and enduring conflict with Magnus Hirschfeld, who was a feminine homosexual male.

This type was perfectly characterised in Nazi Germany, the last true patriarchy in the Western world. It was a culture within which boys could be suitable sexual partners for men because they were not female. Women were regarded as inferior and even as tainted, so relationships with them were seen as demeaning.

This type of man is, typically, horrified by the idea of female physiological functions, particularly menstruation. In Nazi culture, women existed to produce new generations of the Master Race. They had no power, authority or status; they were just breeding machines.

A Spartan pastiche

This was an ideology that was lifted in part from Sparta and remained, in many ways, similar -- a aggressive, imperialist, slaving culture based on a warrior class supported by pederastic homosexuality, with women kept away from men, where boys were the objects of male sexual desire. Yet it was always a shallow, vicious pastiche of the Spartan system.

Spartan girls actually dressed and acted like boys. They wore short, athletic tunics and bared their breasts. They competed in athletics, often in competition with boys and even taught them the arts of javelin-throwing and other sports. Was this because the only way for them to attract a husband was to appear to be boys? Probably.

But Sparta was certainly not an absolute patriarchy. It was a divided, two-group society in which the social spheres of men and women were separated. Within one existed a patriarchy and within the other a matriarchy. Spartan women were strong, owned their own homes and were politically dominant. When married, they would have their hair cut, dress as boys and then their husbands would 'capture' them; forever thereafter they wore their hair short to signify their status: equal to a man. As, of course, they were; Spartan culture rigidly divided the social roles and spaces of men and women, but at the same time recognised that men and women were equally essential to the overall success of the culture. This was remarked by other Greeks, especially the Athenians; it is also typical of traditional, two-group societies throughout history, the world over.

All this is a far cry indeed from the Nazi interpretation, which shows the danger of a little knowledge. Nazi officers, conditioned by their ideology to regard sex with women as a distasteful duty, would take pretty boys as sexual partners. During World War II they became notorious across Occupied Europe for their sexual obsession with such boys, whom they kidnapped and coerced into sex with impunity -- something that is not often remembered in the annals of Nazi wickedness. One wonders why; might it be because it is too inconvenient a truth for the academic apologists for the New Gay Man lifestyle?

The Hitler Youth

Meanwhile the Hitler Youth became icons of desirable sexuality -- blond, blue-eyed, lithe, fit, Aryan and male. The Nazi obsession with 'healthy bodies' which included 'naturism' and athletics -- even for girls, who would be made to appear like boys, after the Spartan model -- is a pederasts' delight, in which youthful masculinity was beautiful and pure, and femininity was corrupt and base.

Make no mistake, the pederasts' narcissistic obsession with the ideal of pure masculinity, too, is a central part of New Gay Man culture -- or did you think all those leather hats and quasi-Nazi dress codes were some sort of joke?

Remind me again how the toxic, manipulative New Gay Man lifestyle is 'better' than living a normal life as a normal woman in a normal way.

For that is the central lie being promoted today, by feminists, New Gay Men and their 'gender-critical' allies. You can see it clearly when psychologist James Cantor says that most Gender Non-Conforming (GNC) children 'will grow up to be ordinary gay or lesbian folks'. 'Folks'. Not 'people'. How down-homey, how familiar -- and yet how patronising and erasing of transsexual youth. It's the same old same old, dressed up in new clothes -- 'We don't mind you being a homo these days, you know, but you mustn't be feminine -- and never, ever be transsexual'. Thus, the society that spawned the New Gay Man exposes its ongoing prejudice; and worse, professionals like Cantor, alumni of the academy for pederasts, are assisting in casting feminine boys to the wolves.

HSTS transition is the only escape from the pederasts, for a feminine homosexual boy

In almost all cases, Male to Feminine HSTS transition will be preceded by years of obvious gender non-conformity, including cross-dressing, crushes on boys, possibly canoodling with boys, rejection of masculine toys and games, adoption of feminine ones -- and this, even in households where there are no girl children. This can begin as early as age 2 so, by the age of 14 or so, the parents will have observed perhaps 10 or 12 years of GNC. They either know what's coming or are inadequate parents.

Intense and persistent, consistent GNC, when associated with high levels of stress and discomfort at having to appear in society as a boy, for a male, or a girl, for a female, is indicative of Childhood Gender Dysphoria (CGD). If this persists through puberty, it is a reliable, strong indicator that the individual will be transgender homosexual, that is, feminine, sexually receptive male or masculine, assertive female.

Transsexuals are characterised by two parameters; they are intensely and exclusively same-sex oriented, in terms of sexual and romantic desire, from childhood; and they are just as intensely and consistently cross-sex identified, from the same age.

Whether or not such individuals transition and become properly HSTS transwomen or transmen depends a great deal on the level of social intolerance they must face. Put bluntly, in tolerant societies, a majority will transition, but in intolerant ones like the Anglophone West, far fewer will. They have to run the gauntlet not only of the rampant political correctness that says 'gay is always better'.

Brainwashing young HSTS

Young HSTS are browbeaten with this lie by teachers, psychologists and doctors, by family and friends, as well as political activists opposed to what they call the 'gender binary' and want to see it destroyed -- and who know that HSTS absolutely support that binary, and the traditional masculine and feminine roles and values that underpin it.

These activists want to see HSTS erased because they defy 'gender neutral' Postmodernist propaganda and stand against the Brave New World, in which we shall all be genderless, soulless, personality-less, opinion-less slaves to the New Matriarchy. So they are quite prepared to throw HSTS into the gaping maw of the New Gay Man lifestyle. After all, for them, the end always justifies the means, and a few boys thrown into this relentless, soul-destroying, pederastic meat-grinder is an insignificant sacrifice, for them .

The Choice

There is a choice, for young feminine homosexual males. As they pass through puberty and begin to consider the life beyond it, they must decide whether to follow transgender homosexual aetiology to its natural conclusion and transition into women, or to submit to the relentless browbeating and sign their lives away to the 'New Gay Man' meat market.

In other words, they must choose whether it is preferable, being strongly same-sex oriented and cross-sex identified, having exhibited childhood GNC, which developed into Gender Dysphoria and in adolescence persisted and deepened, to integrate into society as women and try to find a nice man to love, or to become a part of a culture notorious for risky sexual behaviours, HIV, promiscuity, emotional abuse and relentless persecution of feminine homosexual males for being feminine -- as if they could be anything else.

Kill the lie

We need to kill the lie, now. Everywhere in the world, outside North America and Northern Europe, it is recognised that the desire to be penetrated makes a male into a woman, sexually. That understanding is as old as writing, it's discussed in the Vedas, was implicitly understood by the Romans.

This is the true perspective; the New Gay Man one is a lie and worse, a politically convenient deception. We should not be condemning young people to live a lie, just because it might be Politically Correct to do so; and those who promote this lie, and seek to condemn feminine boys to the pederasts, should be shamed.
